FAQ

1. DROPPED THIRD STRIKE:
  - a. Dropped third strike is when the catcher fails to catch what would be the 3rd strike call before it touches the ground when there are fewer than 2 outs AND 1st base is unoccupied OR anytime there are two outs, the batter can run to 1st base. The batter will be called out if tagged by the catcher with the ball or if the batter "checks" herself out by walking to the dugout (or out of the baseline). The catcher may pick up the dropped ball and attempt to throw the batter/baserunner out at first.
2. IN-FIELD FLY RULE:
  - a. Infield fly rule is when there are runners at 1st and 2nd OR bases are loaded with less than 2 outs and the ball is popped up into the infield. The umpire shall call "Batter is out" or some variance thereof, and the runners may advance at their own risk.
